SCRANTON SOLDIER WEDDED.
He Came Home on a Furlough to Get a Bride.

The wedding of Miss Flora Levi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Levi, and Sergeant George G. Dalley, of Company A, Thirtieth regiment, was celebrated in a religious style last evening at the home of the bride's parents, corner of Penn avenue and Great Ridge street.

The bridal party formed on the second floor and marched into the large drawing room on the first floor in which the ceremony was performed. Rev. Dr. I. J. Lansing, of the Green Bible Presbyterian church, officiated. Ex-Chief Musician Edward Richards, of the Thirtieth, sounded "tips" as the party touched a large arch of bunting near the doorway. They were presided by the sisters of the bride, Ruth and Pauline Levi, who acted as flower girls. Mrs. Heekel played the wedding march.

The bride was attired in white silk, trimmed with lace. Her veil was pinned with the regulator, cross arms of the Pennsylvania National guard.

DAILEY WAS EXCITED

Did Not Like the Way Attorney Holgate Addressed Him and Wanted to Inflict Punishment.

Attorney Holgate aroused the ire of Joseph Dailey, of the Nineteenth ward, at yesterday's hearing in the Lansing-Kelly court. Mr. Dailey was in the stand and Mr. Holgate asked him if he received any money or valuable consideration for his vote. He said he didn't, that Republican money was scarce around where he was.

Mr. Dailey gestulated and stormed and said that but for the law he would give Mr. Holgate fresh liver for dinner. The excitement was intensified very much by such suggestions from several of Dailey's friends in the audience as "Smash him," "Pate him," "You're no good if you don't pull the windpipe out of him."

Finally some one caught Dailey in a tight grasp and took him from the room into the corridor. He evidently had some belligerent advisers for after a few minutes he returned and danced with rage a few feet from Mr. Holgate. He had a clay pipe in his fist and he put it to his mouth and lit it.

Commissioner Lewis ordered Dailey to cease or he would be locked up. He was removed from the room by some of his friends, and things went on briskly and quietly after that.

Seventy-six witnesses were examined although yesterday. They were from the Nineteenth ward and were as follows: Charles Eck, Martin McGowan, John Devine, John Neuls, Peter Bannister, Jacob Shindler, R. Jacob Reber, John Gilroy, Thomas Murphy, Martin Gagner, John Schiller, James Fallon, Michael Kearney, Joseph Eitel, William Ruder, August Eisinger, F. W. Railroad Man

Receives Good Advice from Fellow Workmen

The Whole Story Told by His Wife—It May Help You.

"When my little boy was six years old he had an attack of the measles, and after recovering he was restless at night, had no appetite, and was cross and fretful. Later on, large blotches and sores broke out on his face and limbs. We were told they would heal in a few days; but those few days grew into months. One day my husband, who is a well-known railroad man, was advised by some of his fellow workmen to give the boy Hood's Sarsaparilla. We concluded to do so, and after he had taken the first bottle we noticed some improvement. We kept on giving him this medicine until he had taken three bottles, when he was completely cured. He has been well ever since." Mrs. E. J. Miller, Bennett, Pa.

J. C. VAUGHAN
HAD NO OPPOSITION
Renominated for State Senate by Republicans of Twentieth District.

HIS NAME WAS PLACED BEFORE THE CONVENTION BY A. J. COLLORN, JR., IN ONE OF HIS MOST ELOQUENT EFFORTS—E. P. KINGSBURY WAS THE CHAIRMAN OF THE CONVENTION—RESOLUTION READ BY A. TORNEY JOSEPH MOORE, CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE.

Hon. James C. Vaughan was renominated for the office of state senator yesterday afternoon by the representatives of the Republicans of the Twentieth Senatorial district, which comprises portions of Lackawanna and Luzerne counties.

The convention, which was exceedingly business-like and harmonious, was held in the rooms of the Central Republican club on Washington avenue. It was called to order at 2 p. m. by E. P. Kingsbury, the chairman of the senatorial standing committee, who named John H. Reynolds and E. E. Robathan to assist W. E. Briggs, secretary of the committee, in receiving and recording the credentials.

While this important work was being performed, Mr. Kingsbury named Joseph Moore, M. W. Lowry, Joseph Speicher, Martin Joyce, G. B. Partridge and James E. Watkins as a committee on resolutions and suggested that they might expedite the work of the convention if they would prepare their resolutions while the roll was being prepared.

NO CONTESTS.

After the credentials of the one hundred and twenty-seven delegates present in the convention had been received and recorded Chairman Kingsbury then turned the work of the convention over to the committee on resolutions, which was presented by Attorney Joseph Moore, of Pittston, chairman of the committee on resolutions. The resolutions were unanimously adopted and are as follows:

RESOLUTIONS.

We, the Republicans of the Twentieth Senatorial district, composed of a part of the Eleventh and a part of the Twelfth congressional districts of Lackawanna and Luzerne counties, in convention assembled, hereby endorse the principles affirmed by the Republican state convention, held in Harrisburg, on June 2, 1898, and pledge our loyal support to the distinguished nominees of that convention.

A TALK ON VELVETS.

Let's have a little confidential chat about Velvet carpets. We think there's a whole lot of carpet goodness in velvets. In many ways they're better than axminsters. In every way they're better than moquettes. And our velvets are good velvets. Heavy wear resisting pile. Colors that seem just a little better than any you've seen before. Patterns too, shows that our buyer makes a study of his end of the business. We're sure our line was never as good as this year. And surely no one shows a better one. The weather is to warm to make change so we've priced them at an even dollar a yard.

STUDENTS WHO WERE SUCCESSFUL
Result of the Examinations at Stroudsburg State Normal School.

SENIOR CLASS OF '94 AND JUNIOR CLASS OF '95 PUPILS CAME UP BEFORE THE BOARD OF STATE EXAMINERS AND EVERY ONE OF THEM SUCCESSFUL IN PASSING THE EXAMINATION—NAMES OF THE STUDENTS FROM THIS COUNTY.

At East Stroudsburg yesterday several hundred students of the Normal school awaited with much impatience the report of the state examining board which completed the examinations yesterday morning and was in session from 1 until 2 p. m. preparing its report.

OFFICERS FINISH.

Recruiting Details of the Thirteenth Ready to Return to Camp. Lieut. Dentler Pleasied.

Captain Robling and the First battalion recruiting detail of the Thirteenth regiment expect to return to Camp Alger today. They recently enlisted men, who for various reasons were not sent with the detachments of recruits, will accompany the recruiting party. Captain McDonald and his second battalion detail will not return to camp until October 10.

The Thirteenth's eight companies up to the regular army standard. It is not considered probable that it will be made a 12-company, 3-battalion regiment. The companies organized by Captain Stokes and Detective Mohr would probably be organized as a separate company.

Lieutenant Dentler will forward a detachment of twenty-five or thirty men to the Eleventh, United States infantry today. The lieutenant continues to be satisfied with the quality and quantity of men who are making applications. Enough men are needed, however, to keep the regular army detail here for ten days or two weeks.
